Sharon Calman

Sharon Calman, born in February 1980, studied fine arts and painting at the Alanus University of Arts and Social Sciences, in Alfter, Germany.

In her paintings she evokes a vivid and imaginative world of colours, that deals with both childlike and womanly aspects of femininity, and apart from that reveals fairytale-like moments of an intense and subtle atmosphere. She likes to playfully mix these topics, thus her pictures contain a touching combination of ripeness and innocence that goes straight to the heart.

But as much as her artwork has a concentration on describing this inner dreamy world, Sharon Calman focuses on portraits to point out the real. There, she concentrates on the work with light, shadows and colours, aiming to capture the most of character and liveliness on her canvas to truly depict her model.

She lives in Bonn, Germany, and works as a freelance artist and book illustrator.
